

YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

The Montana experience is as rewarding as each visitor makes it. Here are some tips to make your trip more enjoyable and assure a quality experience for future visitors:

- Help preserve our heritage by leaving ghost towns, mining camps and other historical attractions intact. Take photographs, but nothing else.
- Leave Montana's natural features as you find them. Plants and flowers are best enjoyed in their natural state.

- Respect the rights and property of others. Always get permission before entering private land.
- Dispose of trash properly.
- For your safety and theirs, enjoy wildlife from a distance.
- We're known for our friendliness—especially when you respect our traditions, customs and local ordinances.
- Support our economy; look for the Made in Montana label when you shop.

SINCE LEWIS & CLARK, WE'VE BEEN

WELCOMING EXPLORERS TO MONTANA.

Montana invites you to take the journey of a lifetime. Retrace the footsteps of President Jefferson's famed Lewis and Clark Expedition. Explore a landscape that still supports America's wildest creatures. Discover glaciers and geysers, wilderness and wild rivers.

Montana is our nation's fourth-largest state. Yet, in terms of population, we're about the size of a small American city—less > than a million. That leaves plenty of elbow room, so take your time in exploring our mountains and prairies, our lakes, rivers and streams, our friendly cities and towns, our parks, history and culture. Montana's beloved cowboy artist, Charlie Russell, put it best when he said, "When you come to town don't forget our latchstring is on the outside."

Welcome,

Governor Marc Racicot

Montana is a big state with dramatically different landscapes. For your convenience, we have divided the state into six vacation regions, each with attractions and scenery that live up to its name. For a more detailed map, see page 22.

Montana's nickname is "Big Sky Country." And once you've visited, you'll know why. Whether it's mountains in the west or rolling plains in the east, high above you'll find a bright expanse of big, beautiful sky. But don't just look overhead for beautiful sights. Look all around you. Montana is filled with scenic wonders to see, fun things to do and friendly people to meet. Hike, bike, raft, watch wildlife, take photos, ride horses or spend time in our great indoors (shopping, museums, galleries and more). Use this Vacation Guide to get an overview of the best of the Big Sky. For information on accommodations, campgrounds, outfitters and guides and winter activities, contact:

MOTHER

NATURE'S BEST WORK HAS

Jagged mountains of granite. Rolling green plains. Crystal-clear lakes and refreshing streams.

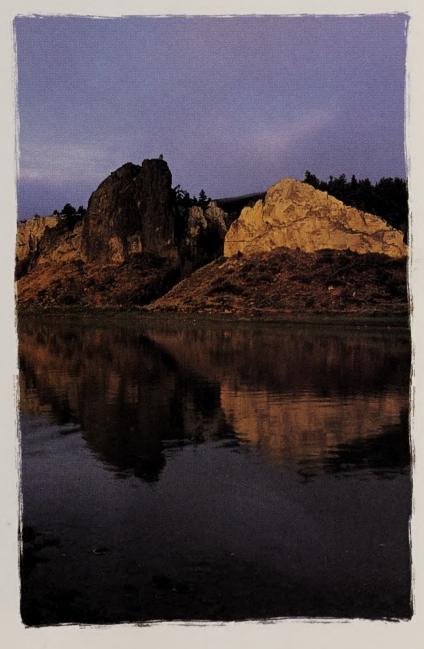

They are all here in Montana. Add teeming populations of wildlife and you complete the picture of Big Sky Country, a landscape rich in scenes of natural wonder.

Montana is home to two national parks: Glacier and Yellowstone. Glacier Park is known for its inspiring peaks, backcountry hikes and the aptly-named Going-to-the-Sun Road, a 52-mile excursion across the crest of the Continental Divide. Yellowstone, the world's first national park, features erupting geysers like Old Faithful, majestic waterfalls, petrified forests and roaming bison, elk and other wildlife.

But national parks aren't the only scenic treasures in the Treasure State.

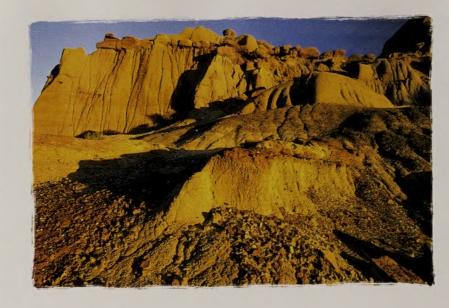

For every spectacular acre in Glacier or Yellowstone, there are millions more in our other public lands: national forests, state parks, wilderness areas

A FEW DRIVES WORTH A LOOK.

Just about any Montana highway is a scenic drive. You don't have to visit a park or trek into a wilderness area to see some amazing sights. You just need a full tank of gas. Here are some suggestions:

- The Beartooth Highway
 connecting Red Lodge and Yellowstone Park. Here you'll cross the Beartooth Plateau, with altitudes nearing 13,000 feet.
- The Seeley-Swan Highway on MT 83 between Clearwater Junction and Bigfork. As you drive, you'll be surrounded by dense national forests and inviting mountain lakes.
- •The Pintler Scenic Route on MT 1 between Drummond and Anaconda. Traverse a mountain pass with views of the Anaconda-Pintler Wilderness.
- Kings Hill National Scenic
 Byway between White Sulphur Springs and Great Falls. Treat yourself to views of central Montana's Little Belt Mountains.
- Makoshika State Park
 bordering Glendive. A drive back in time through an 8,123-acre preserve of badlands and prairie complete with fossil remains.
- C.M. Russell National Wildlife Refuge on US 191
 north of the Missouri River.

and wildlife refuges. Montana's state parks offer recreational opportunities from boating and camping to wildlife watching. Nine national forests are filled with roads and trails for hiking, biking and horseback riding. Montana's wildlife refuges preserve habitat for thriving populations of waterfowl, big game and other creatures. And, Montana protects millions of acres of scenic splendor in some of the nation's most famous wilderness areas, including the Bob Marshall and the Absaroka-Beartooth. But land and sky aren't all that's big in Montana. The state is filled with pure waters as well—ranging from some of the world's most famous blue ribbon trout streams to deep turquoise lakes.

Earth, sky, water. Those are the elements revered by this land's native peoples. Those were the elements that brought Lewis & Clark—and subsequent explorers—to Montana. And, they are the elements that continue to attract adventurers today. Montana is a special kind of place—a place where magnificent landscapes exist untouched by the hands of man; awe-inspiring testaments to the design of nature.

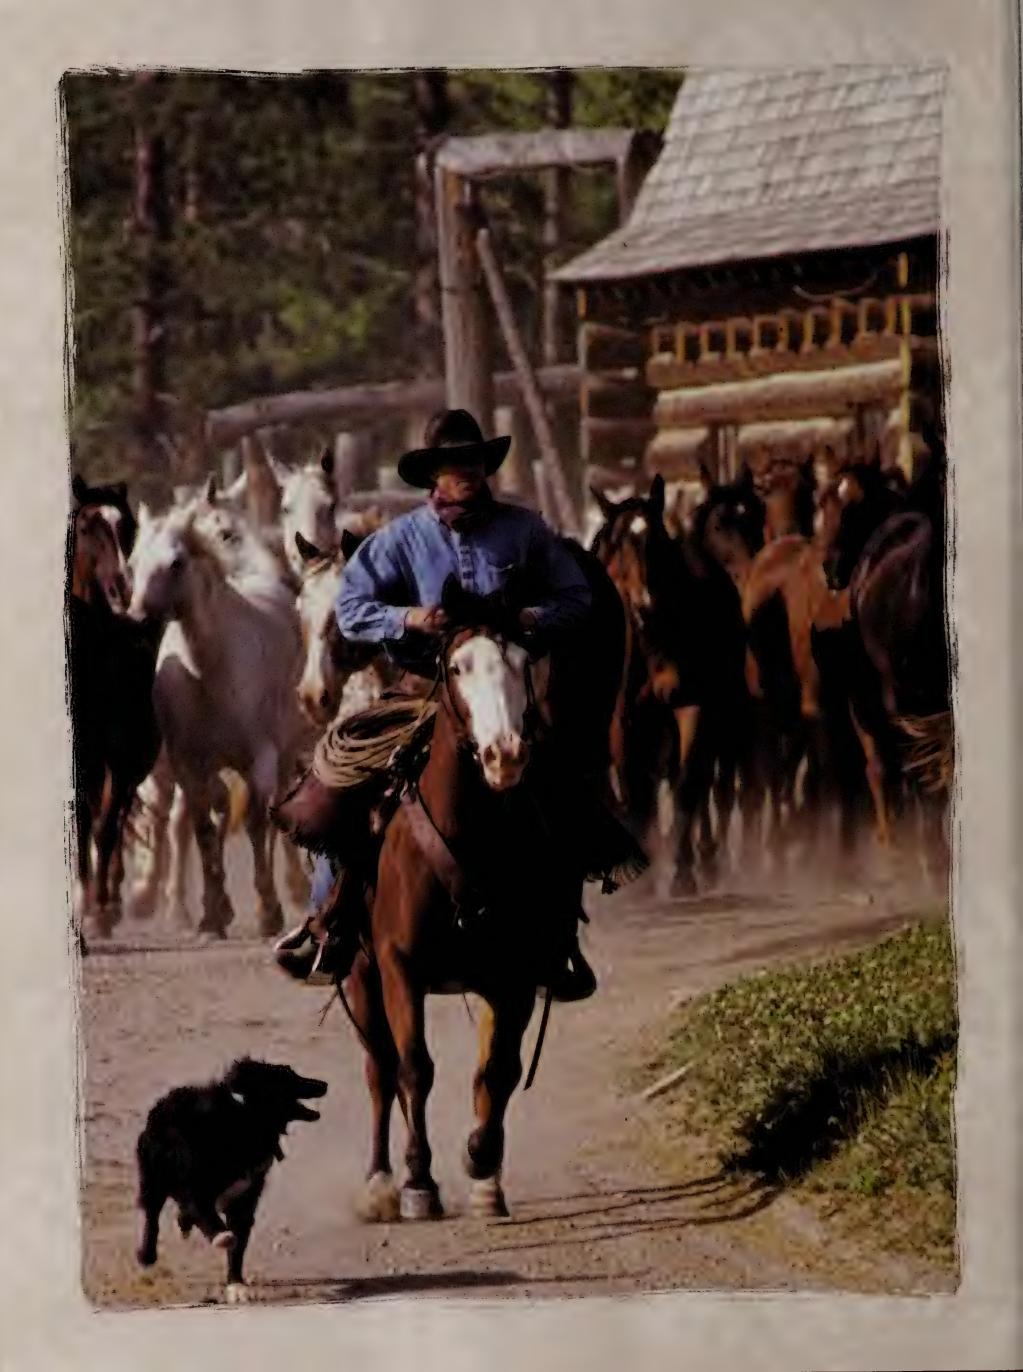

MEET SOME OF MONTANA'S ORIGINAL RESIDENTS

In Montana, the wildlife outnumber the people. And you'll find a greater variety of wildlife in Big Sky Country than anywhere else in the lower 48 states. Antelope, elk, moose, mountain goats, bighorn sheep, eagles and trumpeter swans call Montana home, as well as some of the more "celebrity" species like grizzly bears and wolves. Montana is active in the national "Watchable Wildlife" program, which helps to educate people about native species. Sites offering particularly noteworthy wildlife viewing opportunities are marked all across the state; just look for the brown and white "binocular" signs. Experts say the best time to see wildlife is right at dawn or dusk. A companion viewing guide that provides details about every Watchable Wildlife stop in Montana is available in bookstores.

THE WEST ISN'T JUST A DIRECTION.

The West. Two words that paint pictures in the mind: vast ranches beneath snow-capped peaks; cattle grazing in flowered meadows; rugged cowboys in dusty leather saddles. The West has been fictionalized in print and on screen. But in Montana, it's more than a good story; it's an indelible part of life in a state that traces its rugged beginnings to ranching and mining.

All across Big Sky Country, you can get a glimpse of the West's mystique. Our western heritage is preserved at places like Grant-Kohrs Ranch National Historic Site in Deer Lodge, where the history of Montana cattle ranching from the 1850s through today is told. Historical Virginia City and Nevada City are national treasures detailing Montana's "gold rush" era. These living communities offer shopping, dining and theater even today. Many more ghost towns and historical attractions throughout the state offer links to Montana's western roots.

THE BIG SKY ON THE BIG SCREEN

Over the years, a small sampling of what makes Montana so special has been captured on film. And while the stories are usually imaginary, the adventure is here in living color.

Some of the many movies made in Montana include:

- · A River Runs Through It, 1991
- · A Thousand Pieces of Gold, 1989
- Always, 1989
- · Amazing Grace and Chuck, 1986

And what about today? Our western spirit is very much alive and well. Cowboy hats and boots are still worn more for function than fashion. And whether you want a hands-on experience at a working guest ranch or a relaxing stay at a luxury resort, we serve it up with ample hospitality. Montana is also alive with frontier celebrations. You can dress up for a Victorian ball, dress down for a rodeo, treat yourself to a gathering of cowboy poets or join in a community threshing bee.

Montana offers a sophisticated view of the West. Many of the state's cultural attractions blend the West of yesterday with that of today. The Yellowstone Art Museum in Billings offers important works of western art, and is the largest art facility in a four-state region. The Museum of the Rockies in Bozeman retraces geologic history with dinosaurs and other exhibits. Theaters and performing arts complexes across the state host concerts, ballets, symphonies and artistic endeavors year-round.

Montana isn't just in the west. It is the West.

HISTORY DOESN'T JUST EXIST IN OUR PAST.

Montana's past reads like a "Who's Who" of western history. The first and original inhabitants were the Plains Indians. Montana is home to seven Indian reservations, and many more attractions detailing the rich history of Montana's tribes. The Museum of the Plains Indian in Browning, the Chief Plenty Coups State Park in Pryor, the Fort Peck Assiniboine and Sioux Culture Center in Poplar, and "The People's Center" in Pablo are all important cultural institutions. On all reservations, social events such as powwows, hand games and shinny games are usually open to the public.

Early in the 19th century, America's westward expansion first reached Montana with the Lewis & Clark Expedition. The "Corps of Discovery" spent more time traveling across Montana than any other state that exists today. As testimony to this, Montana boasts Lewis & Clark celebrations in communities all across the state. The stunning new Lewis & Clark Historic Trail Interpretive Center in Great Falls tells the story of the expedition and the

"THERE'S GHOSTS IN THEM THAR HILLS"

You've heard the old cliché: "There's gold in them that hills." Across Montana, "ghosts" have replaced some of that gold as past mining "boom towns" have become preserved "ghost towns." Among those to enjoy are:

- Bannack State Park, west of Dillon. Site of Montana's first major gold strike in 1862, and the state's first territorial capital.
- · Elkhorn, northeast of Boulder. Elkhorn produced more than $14,000,000 in gold and silver.

- · Garnet, southeast of Missoula. It began as the "Nancy Hanks" mine in 1862; today, snowmobilers and skiers can rent cabins.
- · Castle, near White Sulphur Springs. At one time the home of Calamity Jane, this mining town once supported 80 homes, fourteen saloons and 14 brothels.
- · Philipsburg. Though not a ghost town itself, Philipsburg is a must for ghost town lovers. Its Granite County Museum features the Ghost Town Hall of Fame. In addition, about 20 ghost towns are within 30 miles of Philipsburg, including Granite, Tower, Garnet, New Chicago and Georgetown.

Indian people already living here at the time.

Trappers soon followed, leaving behind historical landmarks such as the Fort Union Trading Post National Historic Site near Fairview. It offers a glimpse of Montana's "fur trade" era with plenty of hands-on opportunities for visitors.

> Following the trappers were the "black robes" missionairies like Catholic Father Pierre DeSmet, who established numerous missions in the state (including the first, St. Mary's Mission at Stevensville). Then came the miners in search of gold.

Mining fueled much of Montana's early growth, and cities throughout the state still reflect that heritage today. Downtown Helena wraps around Last Chance Gulch, a mining camp built on gold and silver strikes. Red Lodge, originally a coal mining town, has many of its downtown buildings listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Butte, famous for its rich copper stores, was the home of the "richest hill on earth."

Remnants of Montana's colorful mining heritage are found in the mansions of Butte's dueling "copper kings." Visit William Clark's Copper King Mansion in Butte and that of his rival, Marcus Daly, in Hamilton.

The Conrad Mansion in Kalispell and the Moss Mansion in Billings also offer a glimpse into the lives of Montana's early residents.

Historical reenactments, such as the Battle of the Little Bighorn ("Custer's Last Stand"), bring you face-to-face with Montana history. History even meets culinary creations at the Charlie Russell Dinner Theater in Missoula each summer.

Speaking of Charlie Russell, the C.M. Russell Museum Complex in Great Falls has the world's most complete collection of his art. The Charles M. Bair Family Museum in Martinsdale also features western art, as well as an eclectic collection of art and crafts from around the world.

Montanans of today respect those who came before. They find great joy in sharing their stories with others at these wonderfully preserved historical sites.

AROUND

THESE PARTS, EVERY DAY CAN

BE SOMETHING OF AN ADVENTURE.

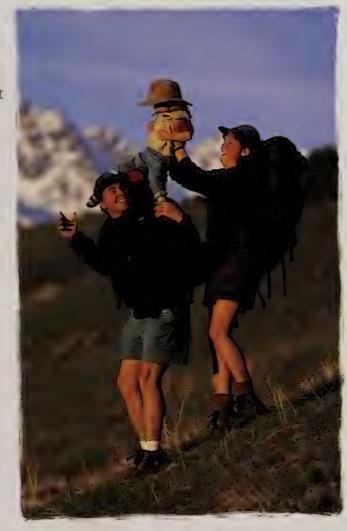

Some people look forward to their vacations for rest and relaxation. Others don't have the words "rest" and "relaxation" in their vacation vocabularies. They want to test their mettle rock climbing, running whitewater rapids, mountain biking or casting for the discerning wild trout. If you're that kind of person, Montana is your kind of state. Public lands, including two national parks (Glacier and Yellowstone), provide a backdrop of diverse landscapes in which to explore.

Fish for wild trout in legendary rivers and streams: the Big Hole, Bighorn, Madison, Missouri and Yellowstone, just to name a few. Or, pull record-size walleye and lake trout from lakes and reservoirs such as Fort Peck, Lake Koocanusa and Bighorn Lake. Sauger, smallmouth bass, pike and even huge paddlefish call Montana waters home.

For whitewater enthusiasts, Montana has everything from Class I to Class VI whitewater, including famous stretches on rivers like the Clark Fork, Gallatin and Yellowstone. For other water-based adventure, how about boating, canoeing, kayaking, sailing, or windsurfing? Wherever you travel in Big Sky Country, you're never far from a scenic lake or river.

Not all vehicles in Montana have four wheels; the state is a haven for cycling enthusiasts. Maybe it has something to do with the hundreds of mountain bike trails on state lands, national forests and recreation areas. (Not that you have to go off-road to find a trail; cities such as Missoula and Great Falls have extensive urban trail networks.)

Of course, what could be more "Montana" than a horseback ride? You'll find plenty of outfitters ready to help you saddle up and head out on a scenic trail. Or, if you're about ready to climb the walls, we have endless mountains and rock climbing areas to explore. Whether

LEWIS & CLARK

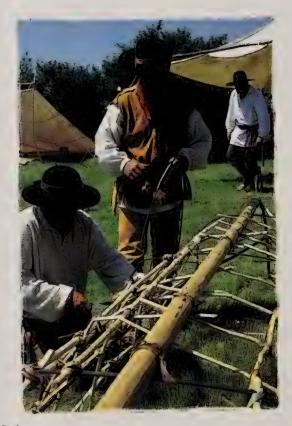

Web: lewisandclark.state.mt.us

Retrace the route of the Lewis and Clark Expedition through Montana. In just over 28 months—from May 1804 to September 1806—Meriwether Lewis and William Clark traveled more than 8,000 miles on foot, on horseback and by boat. More than a quarter of that distance was spent in Montana, where much of the land they explored remains unchanged. Follow them through Montana along portions of many state, U.S. and interstate highways, on the map to the right. Look for the Lewis and Clark Trail sign shown here.

Refer to map on previous page to find sites listed below. Among the sites are: The scenic White Cliffs of the Missouri River (C-7), accessible by river travel only. Fort Benton (C-6). Great Falls (C-5), with the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail Interpretive Center and Giant Springs Heritage State Park, where Clark discovered a huge "fountain or spring" during an 18-mile portage around the Great Falls of the Missouri. The Gates of the Mountains (E-4), north of Helena on I-15, where the Missouri flows through a narrow passage flanked by what Lewis described as "the most remarkable clifts that we have yet seen." Missouri Headwaters State Park near Three Forks (F-5), where the Jefferson, Madison and Gallatin rivers join to form the Missouri. Beaverhead Rock State Monument (G-4), an important landmark north of Dillon on MT 41. Lemhi Pass (H-3), west of Hwy 324 in southwestern Montana, where Lewis and Clark crossed the Continental Divide on their journey westward. Travelers Rest (E-2), near the junction of US 12 and 93 south of Missoula, where the expedition split parties on the return trip east. Lolo Hot Springs (E-2), on US 12 southwest of Missoula, where the expedition camped. Lolo Pass Visitor Center (E-2), on US 12 at the MontanaIdaho border, which has an interpretive site. Pompeys Pillar (F-8), off I-94 east of Billings, where Clark carved his signature in a large sandstone rock along the Yellowstone River.

Commercial boat tours retrace the river route of Lewis and Clark at the Gates of the Mountains (E-4), and in the scenic White Cliffs area of the Missouri River (C-7).

One of the best ways to learn more about the expedition is by traveling with one of the condensed versions of the Lewis and Clark Journal, available in many bookstores.

NEZ PERCE TRAIL

Web: www.nps.gov/biho

In the summer of 1877, five bands of Nez Perce Indians fled their homeland in Oregon and Idaho to escape war. For six months and 1,170 miles, 800 Nez Perce outmaneuvered the U.S. Army in nearly a dozen battles. Today, you can follow the Nez Perce or "Nee-me-poo" National Historic Trail through Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming and Montana.

You'll find many significant stops along the Nez Perce Trail in Montana. The Nez Perce entered Montana at Lolo Pass and easily bypassed a blockade at "Fort Fizzle" near Missoula. At Big Hole National Battlefield near Wisdom, Colonel Gibbon's forces launched a savage surprise attack on the sleeping camp, only to be turned back with heavy losses. At Canyon Creek Battlefield near Laurel, U.S. Army forces were again foiled in their attempt to capture the Nez Perce between the Yellowstone and Musselshell rivers. The Bear Paw Battlefield, 16 miles south of Chinook, is the site of the Nez Perce surrender on October 5, 1877. Other sources of information are:

GLACIER

800-338-5072 OR 406-837-6211

Web: glacier.visitmt.com

It starts with the "crown of the continent"—Glacier National Park—and extends to Flathead Lake, largest freshwater lake in the West. Glacier Country is a splendid mix of public lands and private amenities. The Bob Marshall Wildlands Complex, alone, accounts for 1.5 million acres of federally protected wilderness. Add the Jewel Basin Hiking Area, the National Bison Range, the Flathead Wild & Scenic River, and you'll know why Glacier Country is a destination in itself. Western Montana's largest city is Missoula, home of the University of Montana. Several smaller cities and towns are anxious to show off attractions that range from historic churches and mansions to championship golf courses.

AREA ATTRACTIONS

Glacier National Park (A-2), 888-7800

Set in a rugged section of the northern Rockies, Glacier National Park joins Waterton Lakes National Park in Alberta, Canada. Together they create Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park World Heritage Site—an ideal "two nation vacation." Going-to-the-Sun Road, a spectacular 52-mile highway through Glacier, crosses the Continental Divide at Logan Pass and traverses the towering Garden Wall. Maximum vehicle dimensions over Logan Pass are 21 feet long (including bumpers) and 8 feet wide (including mirrors). Oversize vehicles may be parked at various points. Rental cars are available at nearby towns; a shuttle service may be available, call the park for details. Glacier's gateway towns of East Glacier, West Glacier and St. Mary offer convenient stops for your car or yourself with food and lodging. Logan Pass normally opens mid-June and closes mid-October. Glacier has more than 700 miles of foot and horse trails. Approximately 1,000 campsites are available to car campers on a first-come, first-served basis; backcountry permits are available. New reservation systems are available for Fish Creek and St. Mary campgrounds at 800-365-CAMP. Park accommodations feature historic hotels and lodges. Facilities are open seasonally; the park and portions of Going-to-the-Sun Road are open year-round. For room reservations, call 602-207-6000. For reservations at Sperry Chalet call 888-345-2649. For shelter reservations at Granite Park Chalet (cook your own meals), call 387-5555. In addition to driving or hiking on your own, choose from several tour options. For parkwide bus tours or Going-to-the-Sun Road shuttle, call 888-9187 (summer); for American Indian interpretive tours, call 800-SUN-9220 or 226-9220

(summer); for boat tours, call 257-2426 or 403-859-2362 (Waterton Lake only); for guided backpacking and hiking trips, call 800-521-7238 or 387-5555.

The Glacier Institute 755-1211

For travelers who seek a deeper understanding of the natural world, this educational organization offers a variety of field seminars and programs for adults and youth in and around Glacier National Park. Web: www.digisys.net/glacinst

Flathead Lake (B, C-2)

Located between Kalispell and Polson, this is the largest freshwater lake west of the Mississippi; renowned for its fishing. Boat tours include the diesel-powered Far West from Somers (857-3203), the 51-ft. racing sloop Questa from Bigfork (837-5569), two power boats from Pointer Scenic Cruises in Bigfork (837-5617) and the 41-ft. Kwataqnuk from Polson (883-2448 or 800-882-6363).

Flathead Lake State Park (B, C-2), 752-5501

Six scenic units bordering Flathead Lake. Except for Wild Horse Island, all units feature camping, fishing, boating, swimming. Fee areas.

Big Arm (west shore). Boat access to Wild Horse Island. Summer, 849-5255.

Finley Point (east shore). Conifer forest setting at south end of lake. Summer, 887-2715.

Wayfarers (east shore). North end of lake on MT 35, near resort town of Bigfork. Summer, 837-4196.

West Shore (near Lakeside). Rock formations provide excellent views. Summer, 844-3901.

Wild Horse Island. This 2,163-acre wilderness island is home to bighorn sheep, bald eagles, wild horses, prairie plant species and more. Day use only. Boat access from Big Arm. Summer, 849-5255.

Yellow Bay (east shore). Conifer forest setting on 15 acres; tents only. Summer, 752-5501.

National Bison Range (D-2), 644-2211

Established in 1908 to protect the American bison, about 400-500 of the great shaggy animals roam nearly 19,000 acres of natural grassland. Other inhabitants are birds, whitetail and mule deer, elk, bighorn sheep and pronghorns. Selfguiding auto tours year-round. Visitor center. Fee when all drives are open, May to October.

Bob Marshall Wilderness (C-3) 758-5200 or 791-7700

Known as the flagship of the nation's wilderness fleet, the "Bob" is one of the largest and best-known wilderness areas in the country. Together with the Great Bear and Scapegoat wilderness areas, it forms a contiguous wildlands complex of more than 1.5 million acres that straddle the Continental Divide. Accessible only by trail, the complex offers fishing, hunting, hiking, camping, horseback riding and river floating. Roughly 1,800 miles of trails.

Jewel Basin Hiking Area (B-2), 758-5208

GOLD WEST

800-879-1159 OR 406-846-1943

Web: goldwest.visitmt.com

Built on the sensational fortunes of the gold rush era,

Montana's southwest corner boasts riches that range from state parks and blue-ribbon trout streams to museums and art galleries. From the restored gold camps of Bannack and Virginia City to the mansions, architecture and historic tours of its early mining cities, Gold West Country takes pride in its history. Other historic attractions include the Big Hole National Battlefield, site of an 1877 battle between the Nez Perce and the U.S. Cavalry, and the Grant-Kohrs Ranch National Historic Site in Deer Lodge, which preserves the headquarters of one of Montana's largest cattle ranching empires.

AREA ATTRACTIONS

Virginia City, Nevada City (G-4) 800-829-2969 or 843-5555

Two authentically preserved and restored mining camps from the 1860s gold rush era, located on MT 287, between Butte and Yellowstone Park. The Virginia City Players offer 19th-century melodrama nightly in summer. View period buildings or try your luck at gold panning. Historical tours and accommodations available. Museums open May–Sept.

Big Hole National Battlefield (F-3), 689-3155

Site of the tragic engagement between the non-treaty bands of the Nez Perce and the 7th U.S. Infantry led by Col. John Gibbon on August 9 and 10, 1877. This battle was the turning point of the Nez Perce War of 1877. Today the National Park Service interprets and maintains the battlefield, which is open all year. Two self-guided trails, visitor center, museum, daily ranger programs (summer months). Fee in summer. Self-guided snowshoe and cross-country ski trails open during the winter months.

Bannack State Park (G-3), 834-3413

Site of Montana's first major gold strike in 1862, Bannack was also Montana's first territorial capital. Bannack is a moment frozen in time. A walking tour of this carefully preserved ghost town includes Sheriff Henry Plummer's gallows, the Hotel Meade, Montana's first jail and the Methodist Church, where early-day circuit rider "Brother Van" preached. Visitor center, camping, fishing, picnicking. Off MT 278, west of Dillon. Open year-round. Fee.

Garnet Ghost Town (D-3), 329-3914

Named for the ruby-colored stones found nearby, this well-preserved ghost town offers a glimpse of life in a turn-of-the-century gold camp. Located in the Garnet Range between I-90 and MT 200, Garnet is best reached from the north, off MT 200, or from I-90, west of Drummond. Winter access (Dec. 1–May 15) by snowmobiling or skiing only. Winter cabin rentals. Fee.

Lewis and Clark Caverns State Park (F-5) 287-3541

Montana's first and best-known park features the most highly decorated limestone caverns in the Northwest. Daily cave tours (May 1–Sept. 30), ranger talks. Campground with camping cabins, picnic area, hiking trails, concession, visitor center, group-use area. Located between Cardwell and Three Forks on MT 2. Fee.

Pintler Scenic Route (E-3)

This highway forms a loop through the heart of Gold West Country that takes you over high mountain passes to the towns of Drummond, Philipsburg and Anaconda, and along the shores of scenic Georgetown Lake. The magnificent peaks of the Anaconda Pintler Wilderness form the backdrop. Visit St. Timothy's Chapel for memorable views of the Georgetown Lake area. Take MT 1, off I-90, between Missoula and Deer Lodge, or between Butte and Deer Lodge.

Red Rock Lakes National Wildlife Refuge (H-4), 276-3536

One of North America's most important nesting areas for the rare trumpeter swan, this remote refuge is located on Red Rock Pass Rd. (unpaved), between West Yellowstone and Monida. Other inhabitants include waterfowl, songbirds, raptors, moose and antelope. Primitive area.

ALDER (G-4)

Once a shipping point for Virginia City ore, this town is home to Robber's Roost. Hold-up gangs used to hang out here during the early gold rush days when stagecoaches made regular runs between Bannack and Virginia City.

ANACONDA (F-3) 563-2400

Founded in 1883, this small town owes its existence to Marcus Daly and the Anaconda Copper Company. Smelting operations were suspended in 1980, but "The Stack" remains an important landmark and state park. Visit the Copper Village Museum and Arts Center (563-2422) for area history and a copper smelter display, and the Hearst Free Library (563-6932), a classic 1889 period building donated to the city by George and Phoebe Hearst. Self-guided walking and bus tours of historic Anaconda begin at the Anaconda Visitor Center, 306 E. Park. The 1.6-mile Upper Works Historic Trail affords an overview of Anaconda and the Old Works smelter site, now a Jack Nicklaus Signature golf course. Enjoy the city's popular Washoe Park (563-3409), which includes state fish hatchery trout display ponds and recreational facilities for all ages. The Warm Springs Wildlife Management Area (693-7395), seven miles northeast of town, offers interpretive trails, boating, fishing, wildlife viewing and picnicking.

Anaconda Pintler Wilderness (F-2, 3) 821-3201

This 159,000-acre wilderness extends more than 30 miles along the Continental Divide southwest of Anaconda. Popular access points are Georgetown Lake and Moose Lake as well as the East Fork of the Bitterroot River, off US 93, on the west side of the wilderness. No motorized travel.

Lost Creek State Park, 542-5500

Scenic recreation area north of town, off Hwy 273; handicapped accessible. Short trail to Lost Creek Falls offers views of limestone cliffs that rise 1,200 feet above the canyon floor, mountain goats and bighorn sheep. Camping, picnicking. Seasonal.

BOULDER (E-4)

This small community is home to the Jefferson County Courthouse, listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Built in 1889, the building has a three-story entry and gargoyles perched on 24-inch-thick stone walls. Visit nearby Elkhorn State Park (444-4720) for excellent examples of frontier architecture. This historic mining town stands as a reminder of Montana's 1880s silver boom. Hiking, picnicking. Seasonal.

BUTTE (F-4) 800-735-6814 or 723-3177

Once known as "the richest hill on earth," Butte is steeped in mining history. Copper, gold and silver were all found here, and Butte became a melting pot of ethnic diversity as immigrants flocked to the mines for employment. The AnselmoMine Yard in uptown Butte is the best surviving example of surface support facilities that once served the mines; open seasonally. Free. The Dumas Brothel, built in 1890 as a "parlor house" on E. Mercury, served the miners. Closed in 1982, it is now open for tours. Butte is the home of Montana Tech of the University of Montana, which grew out of Butte's mining heritage. Its Mineral Museum (496-4414) displays 1,500 specimens, including a 27.5-oz. gold nugget. Free. Walking tour brochures and information on this historic city are available at the Butte Chamber of Commerce, 1000 George St. (Exit 126 off I-90). This is also the place to catch a tour of Butte on a replica of an early-day streetcar, "Old No. 1." June 1–Sept. 30. Fee.

RUSSELL

800-527-5348 OR 406-761-5036

Web: russell.visitmt.com

Montana's northcentral region is named for the cowboy artist who captured this vast and vivid landscape on canvas. Charlie Russell loved the West as he knew it at the turn of the century and mourned its loss as white civilization encroached. His adopted home was Great Falls, which has preserved the most complete collection of Russell art and memorabilia at the C. M. Russell Museum. Lewis and Clark explored this land via the original highway of the West, the Missouri River. Much of their route remains unchanged from the way it appeared to them in 1805–06, especially the stretch of river below Fort Benton that has been designated the Upper Missouri National Wild and Scenic River.

AREA ATTRACTIONS

Kings Hill National Scenic Byway (D, E-5, 6) 547-3361

Enter the park from Gardiner on US 89, Cooke City/Silver Gate via the Beartooth Highway (US 212), or West Yellowstone at the junction of US 191/287 and 20. The world's first national park is renowned for its thermal features, including geysers, mud caldrons, canyons, rivers, lakes, waterfalls and wildlife. Yellowstone encompasses 2.2 million acres. The park closes early Nov. to vehicles, reopens late Dec. to early March for Nordic skiers and snowmobilers, and opens again to vehicles in spring. Weather determines all opening/closing dates. Call for details. For lodging reservations as well as reservations for boat tours, horseback riding and chuckwagon dinners, call 307-344-7311. For a list of additional guided activities, including backpacking, canoeing and photography, call 307-344-2107.

Yellowstone Institute (H-6), 307-344-2294

Headquartered in Yellowstone's northeast corner, this non-profit field school offers close to 100 courses on the park's wildlife, plants, geology and history.

Beartooth Highway (G-7), 446-1718 or 446-2103

Designated a National Forest Scenic Byway, the Beartooth Highway has been described by the late CBS correspondent Charles Kuralt as "the most beautiful road in America." Reaching heights of nearly 11,000 feet, this 69-mile, three-hour drive offers skytop views of snowcapped peaks, glaciers, alpine lakes and plateaus. Seasonal.

Absaroka-Beartooth Wilderness (G-6) 446-2103 or 587-6920

Adjoining Yellowstone Park on its northern edge, the Absaroka-Beartooth Wilderness adds nearly one million acres to the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. Within its borders are 28 peaks over 12,000 feet, including Montana's highest, Granite Peak, at 12,799 feet. Nearly 1,000 alpine lakes and more than 900 miles of hiking trails make this a prime backcountry destination for hikers, anglers and horseback riders. Major access points are from Billings, Big Timber, Livingston, Red Lodge and Cooke City. No motorized travel.

ABSAROKEE (G-7) 322-4505

This scenic, small community is a gateway to fishing, hiking, camping and outdoor exploration along the Stillwater and Rosebud rivers and the nearby Absaroka-Beartooth Wilderness.

BIG SKY (G-5)

995-3000 or 800-943-4111

Home of Big Sky Ski and Summer Resort (995-5000 or 800-548-4486), this lively village is a year-round playground for outdoor recreationists. Golf, tennis, hiking, horseback riding, fishing, mountain biking, whitewater rafting, skiing and snowmobiling are all spoken here. Gondola rides offer spectacular views in the summer. Hiking is popular in the nearby Lee Metcalf Spanish Peaks Wilderness (522-2520). For an exquisite view of Lone Mountain, stop by Soldier's Chapel, built in 1955 as a World War II memorial.

BIG TIMBER (F-6) 932-5131

Located at the foot of the Crazy Mountains, Big Timber offers a broad range of activities in a beautiful setting. Explore the Boulder Valley, fish blue-ribbon trout streams and stop by the Yellowstone River Trout Hatchery (932-4434) for an appreciation of cutthroat trout. Visit museums, galleries, antique shops and historic sites, including Crazy Mountain Antiques (932-4353), Shiloh Rifle Manufacturing Co. (932-4454), Sweetgrass and Sage Gallery (932-5228) and the Crazy Mountain Museum (932-5126).

Greycliff Prairie Dog Town State Park (F-7) 247-2940

Sheepmen and cattlemen have always fought the prairie dog, but this community of burrowing rodents, nine miles east of Big Timber, has been preserved. Interpretive signs. Fee.

Natural Bridge (G-6), 932-5131

Spectacular falls and river canyon along the Boulder River, 27 miles south of Big Timber on Hwy 298. Interpretive signs and trails. Fishing and access to Absaroka-Beartooth Wilderness.

BOZEMAN (F-5)

586-5421 or 800-228-4224

Visitors will find a small town atmosphere with big city amenities in Bozeman. This town, beautifully situated at the base of the Bridger Range, blends spectacular recreation with art galleries, museums, symphony, opera, history and many one-of-a-kind western stores. Walk through the Montana State University campus and the South Willson Historic District (586-5421 or 800-228-4224), a residential area featuring houses that range from large mansions to small cottages. Visit the Gallatin Pioneer Museum (522-8122) for area history and artifacts.

American Computer Museum, 587-7545

World's second museum devoted entirely to the history of the computer. Designed for visitors of all ages and levels of computer experience. 234 E. Babcock.

Bozeman Fish Technology Center, 587-9265

Observe many varieties of fish. Native American program, national historic site on premises, picnic area. 4050 Bridger Canyon Rd.

Emerson Cultural Center, 587-9797

Historic building used for visual/performing arts. Visitors will find artists at work, conversational French, swing dancing, cartooning classes, rock concerts and civic forums all under one roof. Call for a schedule of events. 111 S. Grand.

Gallatin Canyon (F, G-5)

Eighty-mile drive south of Bozeman (US 191) that parallels the Gallatin River, skirts the magnificent Spanish Peaks and enters the northwest corner of Yellowstone National Park. Fishing, whitewater rafting, camping and wildlife viewing along the route.

Hyalite Canyon, 587-6920

Disabled-accessible recreation area with hiking trails, waterfalls, fishing, picnicking and camping areas. South on 19th Ave.

Museum of the Rockies, 994-2251

Take a walk through four billion years of Northern Rockies history at one of Montana's finest museums, located at the south edge of the MSU campus. Highlights include the Taylor Planetarium, a world-class dinosaur exhibit, Native American artifacts, Montana history, Tinsley Homestead, Kirk Hill Nature Trail, summer field courses in paleontology, traveling exhibits and gift shop. Fee.

BRIDGER (G-8)

662-3728

Gateway to the Bighorn Canyon National Recreation Area. Drive southeast on US 310 to Lovell, Wyoming, then north on Hwy 37 to reach Devil Canyon Overlook (307-548-2251). This scenic view of Bighorn Canyon is where the Bighorn River has cut the canyon 1,000 feet deep. The Pryor Mountains have been uplifted along fault lines immediately west of the canyon. The Pryor Mountains are home to about 130 wild, free-roaming mustangs believed to be descended from a herd that may have arrived as early as the 1700s. Visitors may catch a glimpse of them at the Pryor Mountain National Wild Horse Range (238-1540), north of the overlook. This rugged, desert-like country offers hiking, birding and backcountry driving.

COLUMBUS (G-7) 322-4505

This full-service community in the foothills of the Beartooths boasts the "most scenic route to Yellowstone Park," via MT 78 and US 212 over Beartooth Pass. Located at the confluence of the Stillwater and Yellowstone rivers, Columbus offers plenty of outdoor recreation. Columbus has fine shops and cafes, three beautiful city parks, public swimming pool, tennis, basketball and walking path. Free camping and picnicking by the Yellowstone River at Itch-Ke-Pe, on the Lewis and Clark Trail. Visit the Museum of the Beartooths (322-4588), located at 5th and 5th N. A great friendly town to discover.

COOKE CITY, COLTER PASS & SILVER GATE (H-6) 838-2495

With Yellowstone National Park and the Absaroka-Beartooth Wilderness at their back door, these skytop communities offer hiking, fishing, horseback riding, pack trips, mountain climbing, snowmobiling and more. Pink snow found only in a few places in the world and glaciers containing preserved grass-hoppers are visible within hiking distance. Accessible yearround from Yellowstone's North Entrance at Gardiner and, during the summer, from the Beartooth Highway (US 212).

GARDINER (G-6) 848-7971

Gardiner is the only year-round, drive-in entrance to Yellowstone Park, making it a bustling town in any season. Roosevelt Arch has marked the North Entrance to Yellowstone since 1903, when President Theodore Roosevelt dedicated it before an estimated 5,000 spectators. The Yellowstone River cuts through town and offers fishermen and rafters unique experiences. Jardine, a nearby gold mining town, offers a bit of area history.

LIVINGSTON (F-6) 222-0850

The original gateway to Yellowstone National Park.

Downtown Livingston, a designated historic district on the National Register of Historic Places, encompasses 436 buildings, most within walking distance of one another. With the Yellowstone River flowing through town, Livingston is anglers' heaven, providing excellent floating and fishing access. Boutiques, art galleries, live community theater and wonderful restaurants await travelers.

Museums of Livingston

Depot Center. Located in a restored Northern Pacific Railroad station. Features railroad displays. 200 W. Park, May-Oct, 9–5, 222-2300.

Park County Museum. Located in a turn-of-the-century schoolhouse. Highlights history of Park County. 118 W. Chinook, June–Aug., 1–9, 222-4184.

Paradise Valley Corridor (G-6)

A 52-mile scenic drive to Yellowstone National Park, bordered by the magnificent Absaroka Range and the Yellowstone, longest free-flowing river in the U.S. and one of America's finest trout streams. Camping, fishing, floating and whitewater rafting.

RED LODGE (G-7) 446-1718

This historic mining town has roots that reach back to the European homes of its diverse founders. Situated at the base of the Beartooth Mountains, Red Lodge is one of Montana's premier ski destinations in winter; in summer, it draws hikers, golfers, mountain bike enthusiasts, anglers, campers, sightseers and Yellowstone Park visitors via the nearby Beartooth Highway. Enjoy native North American animals and the children's petting zoo at the Beartooth Nature Center (446-1133), and take in the area's history at the Peaks to Plains Museum (446-3914), located at the corner of 8th and Broadway.

Cooney Reservoir State Park (G-7) 445-2326 or 247-2940 (winter)

Located west of Boyd, this popular reservoir offers good walleye and rainbow fishing, boating and camping. Fee.

Red Lodge Historic District 446-1718 or 446-3914 (summer)

Buildings and houses on and off Main St. that were built between 1883 and 1910 during the coal mining boom. Remnants of the ethnic groups that settled Red Lodge are preserved in "Hibug" Town, Finn Town and Little Italy. These ethnic traditions are celebrated every August during the nine-day Festival of Nations.

Smith Mine Disaster Site, 446-1718

In 1943, 74 men died in an underground explosion at this mine site. Tipple and several outbuildings still stand.

THREE FORKS (F-5)

285-4880

Situated just off I-90, this small town offers big outdoor recreation opportunities. Nearby Missouri Headwaters

State Park (994-4042) preserves the historic place where Lewis and Clark discovered the confluence of the Jefferson,
Madison and Gallatin rivers—headwaters of the Missouri.
Campground, interpretive displays, hiking trails, fishing and floating are all found here. Fee. Southeast of town on Buffalo Jump Rd., Madison Buffalo Jump State Park (994-4042) vividly demonstrates a hunting technique used by Indians
2,000 years ago. Interpretive displays explain how bison were stampeded over a cliff. Fee. For area history, visit the Headwaters Heritage Museum on Main St. Seasonal.

WEST YELLOWSTONE (H-5) 646-7701

"Hub of Yellowstone Country," this friendly community, nestled within public lands, is Yellowstone Park's most popular gateway and a mecca for year-round outdoor recreation enthusiasts. Summer finds visitors fly fishing, river rafting, mountain biking and hiking while those in winter enjoy cross-country skiing, snowmobiling and touring on snow-coaches. Along with great shopping, West Yellowstone boasts such attractions as the Museum of the Yellowstone (646-7814) and the Playmill Theatre (646-7757), both seasonal.

Grizzly Discovery Center-A Bear and Wolf Preserve, 646-7001 or 800-257-2570

Educational facility devoted to the preservation of these threatened animals. Fee. Adjacent to West Entrance of Yellowstone Park. Open year-round.

West Yellowstone Visitor Information Center 646-7701

Statewide travel information, right outside the West Entrance to Yellowstone Park. Open year-round.

Yellowstone IMAX Theatre, 646-4100

Experience the history, wildlife, geothermal activity and grandeur of America's first national park through the theatre presentation of "Yellowstone." Fee. Adjacent to West Entrance of Yellowstone Park. Open year-round.

MISSOURI RIVER COUNTRY

800-653-1319 OR 406-653-1319

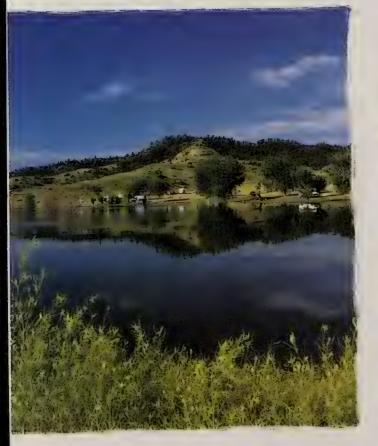

Web: missouririver.visitmt.com

Everything about Missouri River Country is big. During peak migration periods, millions of waterfowl fill the sky above the many lakes and reservoirs that dot Montana's northeast corner. Giant Fort Peck Lake has 1,500 miles of shoreline, and the C. M. Russell Wildlife Refuge sprawls across a million acres of prairie wilderness. This area is as rich in history as it is in wildlife. The West's fur trade era has been preserved at Fort Union

Trading Post National Historic Site, and the romance of the Old West lives on in the Little Rocky Mountains, a favorite hangout of Butch Cassidy and Kid Curry.

AREA ATTRACTIONS

Fort Peck Dam and Lake (C-10), 526-3431

One of the world's largest dams, Fort Peck Dam impounds the Missouri River to form a giant lake. Built in 1934-40, the dam employed roughly 10,000 workers during the height of the Great Depression. Today, the area offers boating, fishing, camping, sightseeing and wildlife viewing. Powerhouse tours daily in summer. Museum open year-round.

Charles M. Russell and the UL Bend National Wildlife Refuges (C-8, 9, 10), 538-8706

These wildlife-rich refuges consist of prairies, pines, breaks and badlands, and encompass a million acres of wildlands surrounding Fort Peck Reservoir. Together, the refuges boast the only place in Montana where elk still occupy their native prairie yearround. Recreational opportunities include boating, fishing, camping and hunting. Excellent viewing opportunities exist for elk, deer, antelope, bighorn sheep, raptors and waterfowl. A two-hour, 20-mile auto tour of the C.M. Russell Refuge begins and ends on US 191 north of the river and, in season, may offer views of the elk herd. Consult weather conditions before traveling to the refuges as roads may be impassable.

Fort Union Trading Post National Historic Site (B-12), 701-572-9083

The upper Missouri River's preeminent fur trading post from 1828 to 1867, Fort Union was a colorful mix of fur traders, Plains Indian tribes, riverboaters and frontier capitalists. The Bourgeois House, once the setting of elegant dinners for distinguished guests, is now a visitor center. Fort Union straddles the Montana-North Dakota border southeast of Culbertson. Open daily. Admission free.

Medicine Lake National Wildlife Refuge (B-12), 789-2305

This important refuge is home to the largest white pelican colony in Montana, with more than 10,000 nesting birds, and supports spring and fall migrations that bring thousands of waterfowl. Other seasonal visitors include sandhill cranes and an occasional whooping crane. The refuge encompasses a small prairie wilderness and an 8,000-acre lake. Open year-round for walking tours; seasonal self-guided auto tour.

BAINVILLE (B-12)

Visitors to this eastern Montana town enjoy the Bainville Historical Association Museum (769-2596), which features a pioneer bedroom, kitchen, music room, old jail and 1929 fire truck.

CIRCLE (C-11) 485-2414

Located in the heart of the prairie, Circle's McCone County Museum (485-2414) interprets the development of this vast country, also features Indian artifacts, fossils and a large taxidermy room. Fee.

CULBERTSON (B-12) 787-5821

Culbertson greets travelers at the Culbertson Museum and Visitor Information Center (787-6320). Museum features 12 historical rooms, as well as a wagon barn, blacksmith shop and GN caboose. Open daily May–Sept. Free tours.

FAIRVIEW (C-12) 747-5259

Located at the confluence of the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers, Lewis and Clark spent more time here than any other spot west of Mandan, ND. Just north of Fairview is Fort Union, one of the nation's premier frontier trading posts. Visitors will also find Fort Buford, a military fort, and historic Snowden and Fairview bridges, the last two dual transportation (autos/trains) lift bridges left in the country.

FORT PECK (C-10)

Best known as the home of Fort Peck Dam, this small town offers big recreation and entertainment opportunities. A scenic overlook just east of the dam on MT 24 offers views of Fort Peck Lake and interpretation of Lewis and Clark's journey through northeast Montana. Fort Peck Theatre (228-9219 offers summer musicals and drama. The Powerhouse Museum (526-3431) has an impressive display of fossils.

GLASGOW (B-10) 228-2222

Besides unlimited recreation at nearby Fort Peck Lake and the Charles M. Russell National Wildlife Refuge (538-8706), Glasgow is rich in Hi-Line history. Visit the Pioneer Museum (228-8692) for its fossils and Indian artifacts, plus railroad, early business, aviation and wildlife collections. Seasonal. Learn about the area's rich heritage and culture on a historical bus tour (228-8747). Seasonal.

JORDAN (D-10) 557-6158

Located near the Charles M. Russell Wildlife Refuge (538-8706), Jordan offers plenty of outdoor recreation and watchable wildlife. The Hell Creek Recreation Area (232-0900) provides access to Fort Peck Lake and excellent water sports opportunities. Visitors can glimpse area history and fossil exhibits at the Garfield County Museum (557-2517). Seasonal.

MALTA (B-8) 654-1776

Home of ranchers, abundant wildlife and unlimited outdoor recreation, Malta is a friendly stop along US 2, known in Montana as the Hi-Line. Visit the Bowdoin National Wildlife Refuge (654-2863) for opportunities to view more than 260 bird species, deer, antelope and upland game. Nelson Reservoir 654-1776) boasts excellent walleye and northern pike fishing, water sports and abundant waterfowl. For area history and dinosaur exhibits, visit the Phillips County Historical Museum (654-1037). Seasonal and by appointment.

PLENTYWOOD (A-12) 765-1733

Just south of a 24-hour Canadian border station, Plentywood is a major gateway to Montana. This lively, small town features a summer festival the first Saturday in August. The Sheridan County Museum (765-2219) features the state's longest interior mural, depicting the history of the county. Seasonal.

POPLAR (B-11)

768-3916

Located on the Fort Peck Indian Reservation (768-5155). Poplar offers plenty of Indian culture. The reservation is home to the Assiniboine and Sioux tribes. The Poplar Museum and Tribal Museum (768-5155) feature tribal history and artifacts. Seasonal. There are many tribal celebrations throughout the year, including the Iron Ring Celebration and Poplar Indian Days.

5ACO (B-9) 527-3218

Chet Huntley, late news commentator, began his education at Huntley School (527-3312), now a restored one-room building.

SCOBEY (A-11)

487-5502

Located in the heart of grain and cattle country, Scobey is the home of the Pioneer Town and Museum (487-5965), largest homestead museum in the northwest. Seasonal.

SIDNEY (C-12), 482-1916

Visitors will enjoy the MonDak Heritage Center (482-3500), which features extensive exhibits of area history, art exhibits and a research library. Closed January. Fee.

WOLF POINT (B-11), 653-2012

Located on the southern edge of the Fort Peck Indian Reservation, Wolf Point visitors can make an appointment to see the nearby John Deere Tractor Collection and Museum 392-5224), or enjoy area history at the Wolf Point Area Historical Society and Museum (653-1912). Seasonal.

ZORTMAN (C-8), 654-1776

This historic mining town, nestled in the Little Rocky Mountains, offers a good base for camping, hiking, gold panning and trail rides. The Little Rockies, named by the Lewis and Clark Expedition in May 1805, are rich in history. Gold mining arrived in 1884. Kid Curry and the Wild Bunch homesteaded in the Little Rockies and have left graves behind with stories to tell. Campgrounds available in both Zortman and Landusky, with traveler services in Zortman.

History is the link that unites Montana's sprawling southeast corner. From prehistoric fossil beds and pictograph drawings to the Lewis and Clark Expedition and the Battle of the Little Bighorn, Custer Country stakes a sizeable claim on the history of the American West. The Little Bighorn National Monument near Hardin marks the spot where Lt. Col. George Custer was overwhelmed by Sioux and Cheyenne warriors. Pompeys Pillar preserves the only remaining physical evidence from Lewis and Clark's famed "Corps of Discovery." One of the rivers they traveled—the Yellowstone—still flows freely through Custer Country, and another great river—the Bighorn—flows out of beautiful Bighorn Canyon. Bighorn Lake and Tongue River Reservoir are popular fisheries.

AREA ATTRACTIONS

Bighorn Canyon National Recreation Area (G-8), 666-2412

Stunning canyon scenery, hiking trails, interpretive programs, boating, fishing and camping make this one of Montana's most attractive recreation sites; located on Hwy 313 south of Hardin. Bighorn Lake, created by 525-foot-high Yellowtail Dam, is located within the canyon's spectacular limestone walls. The lake is 71 miles long and provides great walleye fishing. Below the dam, Bighorn River is one of Montana's premier, year-round trout streams. Accommodations and services are available at Fort Smith and Hardin, and at Lovell, Wyoming. Yellowtail Visitor Center (666-3218, summer or 666-2412). Open daily, Memorial Day–Labor Day. Rangers present programs about the Bighorn Canyon area; call for details.

Little Bighorn Battlefield National Monument (G-9), 638-2621

This site memorializes one of the last armed efforts of Northern Plains Indians to preserve their traditional way of life against the encroachment of white civilization. On June 25 and 26, 1876, 263 soldiers and personnel of the 7th Cavalry were killed by an overwhelming number of Lakota, Cheyenne and Arapaho warriors. Among the dead was Lt. Col. George Armstrong Custer. Battlefield includes visitor center, museum, Custer National Cemetery, 7th Cavalry Memorial and Reno-Benteen Battlefield. Guided summer tours and interpretive programs. Fifteen miles south of Hardin on I-90. Fee.

Montana Agates (F-9 to C-12)

The lower Yellowstone River, between Custer and Sidney, is renowned for the quality and abundance of agates found on its banks. Sometimes called plume or moss agates, Montana agates are famous for the variety of scenic designs sealed permanently in the stones' interiors. Inquire locally for guide service or tips on searching out these gems. Petrified wood, colored jaspers and fossils are also common in the area.

Pompeys Pillar National Historic Landmark 238-1540

Captain William Clark carved his name on this sandstone butte in 1806, the only remaining physical evidence along the trail of the Lewis and Clark Expedition. Interpretive tours, visitor center. Located 28 miles east of Billings off I-94, along the Yellowstone River. Seasonal.

Ashland and Lame Deer (G-10)

These two small communities are the population centers of the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation (477-8844). Of special interest in the Ashland area are a historical buffalo jump, burial sites of Indian chiefs, Custer's last camp before the Battle of the Little Bighorn, the Cheyenne Indian Museum, Ten Bears Gallery, St. Labre Indian School and the Ashland Powwow. Lame Deer is tribal headquarters and home of the Northern Cheyenne Powwow.

BAKER (E-12)

778-2266

The friendly oil and gas production capital on Montana's border. Vintage clothing and equipment plus the world's largest steer at the O'Fallon Museum (778-3265). Cool off in Baker Lake, fish, boat or waterski. Picnic and horseshoes in the park. Free camper hook-ups available. Web: www.bakermt.com

BILLINGS (F-8)

800-735-2635 or 252-4016

Montana's largest city, Billings is a regional business hub as well as a cultural, medical, educational and entertainment center. Museums, art galleries, theaters and shopping are all part of the appeal of this vibrant city. Billings is home to Montana State University-Billings and Rocky Mountain College. Bordered on the north by distinctive rock formations known as rimrocks, Billings is a gateway to Little Bighorn Battlefield National Monument, Bighorn National Recreation Area, Yellowstone Park, the Yellowstone River and the Absaroka-Beartooth Wilderness. Historic tours of Billings and Pompeys Pillar offered by Billings Trolley Tours (254-7180).

Alberta Bair Theater, 256-6052

Largest performing arts center in Montana (1,400 seats), designed and equipped for local performers and professional touring companies. More than 100 events are scheduled annually. 2801 3rd Ave. N., downtown.

Billings Chamber of Commerce Visitor Center and Cattle Drive Monument 800-735-2635 or 252-4016

Easily spotted by the heroic-size bronze sculpture of a cattle drover commemorating the "Drive of '89," Montana's Centennial Cattle Drive from Roundup to Billings. Visitor Center has information on all area attractions. On S. 27th, near the I-90 interchange.

Billings Studio Theatre, 248-1141

Live theatre ranging from Shakespeare to the most contemporary works. 1500 Rimrock Rd.

Black Otter Trail and Boothill Cemetery 252-4016

Drive this scenic trail atop the rimrocks and visit the gravesite of famous frontier scout, Yellowstone Kelly. Based on his wish, the site where he is buried provides a view of five mountain ranges. Nearby Boothill Cemetery is the resting place of H. M. Muggins Taylor, army civilian scout who carried the word of Custer's defeat on horseback through 180 miles of hostile Indian territory to Fort Ellis near Bozeman.

J. K. Ralston Studio & Gallery, 254-0959

Famed Billings artist J. K. Ralston put the West on canvas in this rustic cabin, restored and moved to the campus of Rocky Mountain College. Adjacent gallery features J. K. Ralston originals. Open weekends, Memorial Day–Labor Day. 1426 Rimrock Rd.

CUSTER (F-9)

A friendly town along the Yellowstone River, visitors can enjoy agate hunting, fishing and rustic Boothill Cemetery. Nearby, at the junction of the Bighorn and Yellowstone rivers, is the site of Fort Manuel Lisa, the first building in Montana built by white men.

DECKER (G-10)

Located on Montana's southern border, Decker offers access to two state parks. Rosebud Battlefield State Park (232-0900) is the undeveloped site of the 1876 battle between Sioux and Cheyenne Indians and General George Crook's infantry. One of U.S. history's largest Indian battles, it set the stage for an Indian victory eight days later at the Battle of the Little Bighorn. Tongue River Reservoir State Park (232-0900) offers scenic boating, camping and great fishing. Concessions available seasonally.

EKALAKA (F-12) 775-6294 (evenings)

Steeped in rich heritage, Ekalaka is home to Carter County Museum (775-6886) with some of the finest paleontological discoveries in America—including one of only three known Anatotitan copei (Duckbilled hadrosaur) skeletons in the world. Nearby Medicine Rocks State Park (232-0900) was once a place of "big medicine," where Indian hunting parties conjured up magical spirits. Wind and water have sculpted soft sandstone into unusual forms. Primitive camping facilities.

FORSYTH (E-10) 356-5656 or 877-479-8468

On the banks of the Yellowstone River and the Lewis and Clark Trail, Forsyth offers area history at the Pioneer Museum (356-7547) and the Rosebud County Courthouse (356-7318), which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The three-story, neoclassical building is capped with an ornate copper dome. Inside are murals and stained glass.

FORT SMITH (G-9)

Bighorn River trout await the angler arriving in Fort Smith. Travelers can stop by the visitor center at Yellowtail Dam (666-3234) for books, films, information on recreation and programs on the area's history.

GARRYOWEN (G-9)

For pioneer history, stop by the Treasure County Museum/Manning Theatre.

LAUREL (F-8)

628-8105

Located at the junction of great rivers and highways, Laurel is a convenient stop for travelers. The Chief Joseph Statue in downtown Fireman's Park and Canyon Creek Battlefield Marker (seven miles north of town) commemorate the 1877 battle between the Nez Perce Indians led by Chief Joseph and the U.S. Cavalry under the command of Col. Samuel Sturgis. Visitor information/museum located in Fireman's Park.

MILES CITY (E-11)

232-2890

Miles City is a classic western town, most famous for its annual celebration of cowboy culture—the Miles City Bucking Horse Sale. Rich in western history, it has three districts listed on the National Register of Historic Places. For recreation, visit Pirogue Island State Park (232-0900), a great spot to view wildlife and hunt for agates (no facilities).

Custer County Art Center, 232-0635

Located in a historic waterworks plant on Water Plant Rd., the center features the work of local, state and regional artists. The annual Western Art Roundup, with quick draw and auction, coincides with the world-famous Miles City Bucking Horse Sale.

Fort Keogh

At one time the largest army post in Montana, Fort Keogh served from 1877–1908 as a major post at the close of the Indian wars. Several original buildings remain and the old parade grounds are still intact. Two miles southwest of town.

Range Riders Museum, 232-6146

The impressive historic center on the west edge of town includes Fort Keogh Officers' Quarters, Pioneer Memorial Hall, Old Miles Town, Heritage Center, Indian artifacts and the 400-piece Bert Clark Gun Collection. Seasonal. Fee.

PRYOR (G-8)

Visit Chief Plenty Coups State Park (252-1289), home and burial site of Chief Plenty Coups, last chief of the Crow tribe. His log home and store remain as evidence of his efforts to lead his people to adopt the lifestyle of the white man. Museum and exhibits interpret Crow culture. The park is one mile west of Pryor on the Crow Indian Reservation. May-September. Fee.

RICHEY (C-11)

Richey lies in the center of cattle, sheep and farm country. Visit the Richey Historical Museum (773-5656). Seasonal. Stop at Kuester Dam (just seven miles east on MT 200) for boating and waterskiing, picnicking and overnight camping. Stocked with perch, northern pike and trout.

ROUNDUP (E-8)

323-1966

Once a gathering point for large herds of cattle that grazed up and down the valley, Roundup is located on the Musselshell River near the Bull Mountains. The Musselshell Valley Historical Museum (323-1403) includes a pioneerera cabin, five-room house, coal mine and 7,000-square-foot exhibit area, Seasonal.

RYEGATE & LAVINA (E-7)

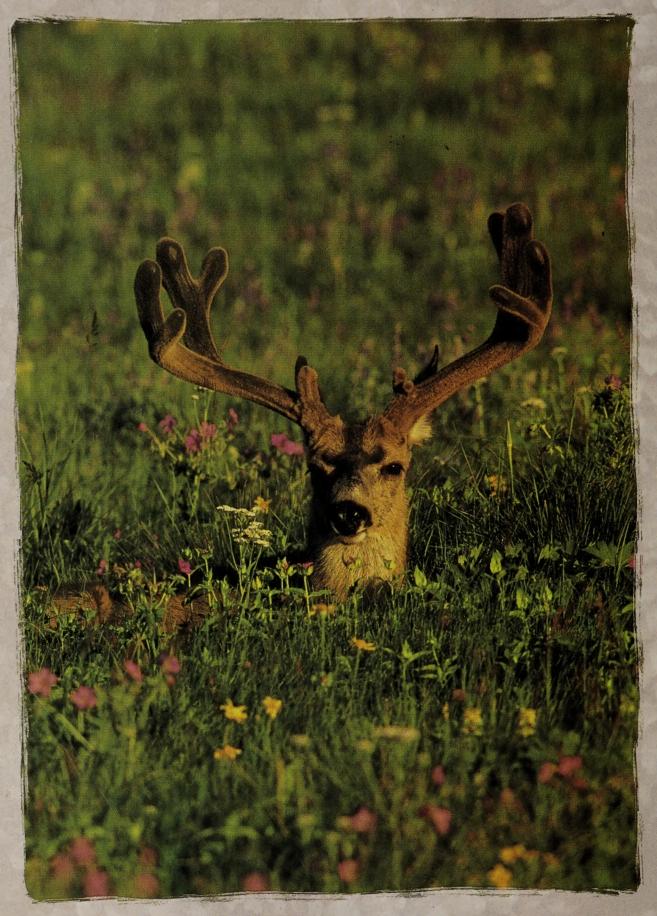

Both towns are located in the beautiful Musselshell River Valley. Visitors will find great fishing along the river known for its catfish and trout.

TERRY (D-11) 635-5782

Terry is nestled by the Yellowstone River in the heart of agate country. Visitors can discover Terry's history at the Lady Cameron Gallery (635-4040), featuring photos of eastern Montana as seen through the eyes of a pioneer British immigrant (1894-1928). The Prairie County Museum (635-4040), housed in the old State Bank of Terry, is filled with horse and buggy equipment, household and business antiques. Both museums are seasonal. The nearby Terry Badlands (232-4333) provide a dramatic backdrop and recreational opportunities.

WIBAUX (D-12)

This gateway to Montana has a rich history. Stop by the Wibaux County Museum Complex (796-9969) for an introduction to the area and its history. The center includes the Pierre Wibaux House, built in 1892 as a town house and office building by Pierre Wibaux, notable open range cattleman. Visitors will also find farm and household items of early area settlers and the Centennial Car Museum. Open May–Sept. Another distinctive building is St. Peter's Catholic Church with its stained glass and lava rock exterior, built in 1885. The Wibaux Visitor Information Center greets travelers at Exits 241 and 242 off I-94. Open May–Sept.

"Game is still very abundant. We can scarcely cast our eyes in any direction without perceiving deer, elk, buffalo, or antelopes...The country is, as yesterday, beautiful in the extreme."
